COMMISSION PEACE DOVE ROUTS WAR

Crowd Gathers in Vain to See Fight on City Manager

SUBJECT NEVER MENTIONED

Unanimous Vote Thanks Author of Boost for Bingham

Over 200 people from all sections of the city gathered in the council chambers Monday night expecting the city commission to vote on the question of ousting City Manager C. A. Bingham or at least reducing his salary.

But—nothing happened. Early in the evening's session the city commission by unanimous vote thanked Thomas B. Green, vice president and general manager of the Buckeye Pipe Line Co., for a letter thanking the old commission or its work and urging that City Manager Bingham be retained at his present salary or at an increased salary.

CTYON UNANIMOUS
The unanimity with which the commission extended a vote of thanks for the suggestion that Bingham be retained at his present salary gave rise to considerable discussion as to whether that was not notice to the city that all five commissioners are ready to retain City Manager at his present salary.

After the meeting Mayor E. C. Over, who last Friday told the News he was going to introduce a motion to oust Bingham in order to keep his word, said he had explanation to make for his failure to present his motion.

"I have absolutely nothing to say to why the matter did not come," said Mayor Over. "I threw a meeting open to general discussion on every phase of the city but nobody spoke a word or against any salary reductions in fact against a reduction of any item in the budget."

FAIR TO BINGHAM
It was suggested to Mayor Over that it is unfair to Manager Bingham to keep him in suspense on the question of whether they are going to oust him or the other way around. He said that it was a matter of his work and hard work.

"I know," said Mayor Over, "that was all the answer he gave to the suggestion."

The last chance which will be offered for an attempt to reduce the salary of the city manager or any other city employee will come next Monday night when the budget will finally be passed as the 1924 appropriation ordinance. Announcement of this effort was made from the chair of Mayor Over.

During the proceedings of the commission session, prior to reaching a budget on the regular program, the letter from Thomas B. Green, vice president and general manager of the Buckeye Pipe Line Co., recommending the city commission to retain the retention of Mayor Bingham was read. Vice president Green's letter was as follows:

DEAR SIRS:
I merely wish to express my appreciation of the personnel of the city commission as founded, organized and maintained by your commission.

The writer being like many other taxpayers of our city, to look in the board once in a while or say word of constructive criticism or commendation, therefore I take it upon me to say that I am a member of the old board and sincerely trust that the city manager and his staff are doing a fine job of running the city.

It requires a big job to run a city like ours. It requires a big job to run a city like ours. It requires a big job to run a city like ours. It requires a big job to run a city like ours.

After the meeting Mayor Over, who last Friday told the News he was going to introduce a motion to oust Bingham in order to keep his word, said he had explanation to make for his failure to present his motion.

CANTON MANUFACTURER IS REARRESTED IN PROBE OF MYSTERIOUS DEATH

Quizzed as to Girl, Supposed Slain, Left on Road

IDENTIFIED BY 2 PERSONS

Sought Victim's Acquaintance, Mother, Chums Say

CANTON — (Associated Press) — Louis E. Griffith, 33, president of the United Machine and Manufacturing Co. here, was arrested by Chief of City Detectives Ed Swope and Captain Ben Clark this morning and taken to police headquarters where Chief of Police S. A. Lengel said he was "held for investigation in the death of Miss Ruth Hunter."

The charge against Griffith on the arrest book is "suspicion." The arrest of Griffith came as a surprising development in the probe by county and city authorities of the death of Miss Hunter, whose body was found on a little frequented road three miles west of here last Thursday morning.

The county authorities are reported to have had no knowledge of the action of police in arresting Griffith. The charge against Griffith on the arrest book is "suspicion."

FIRST ARREST
The day following the discovery of the body Griffith was questioned by Sheriff C. W. Kirk and Captain Clark after being arrested on a charge of illegal possession of liquor and then released when he furnished an alibi, accounting for his actions on the night the girl died. Later Griffith, thru his attorney, issued a statement in which he declared he had no knowledge whatever of the death of the girl and that he did not even know her.

His questioning at this time followed statements by the mother and by a girl chum of Miss Hunter that a man, identified by them as Griffith, had been seeking to make her acquaintance.

Griffith is being questioned by detectives. Chief Lengel said the action taken against Griffith did not involve any direct charge but that the line of questioning would be directed for the purpose of strengthening his alibi or breaking it down. Attorneys are making an effort to secure bond for Griffith but police so far have refused to permit any one to see Griffith.

OIL FIRM SUED BY REFINERS

Marland People Ask Receiver for Econ Concern

Charging that assets of the company are being squandered by mismanagement, suit to foreclose on properties of the Econ Oil & Gas Co. was filed in common pleas court Tuesday by the Marland Refining Co.

Appointment of a receiver to take charge of the business also is sought. Plaintiff contends the Econ company is indebted to them in the sum of $49,190.13, partly secured by notes.

It is charged also that misrepresentation was employed to obtain credit, and that on this account the Marland company allowed the defendant to pile up a large debt.

The Econ Co. has oil depots, and stations in Lima, Van Wert, Spenerville, Delphos, Jackson Center, St. Marys, Bluffton, Elida, Rockford, Conroy, Willshire and Columbus Grove.

WASHINGTON — Five Ohio Republicans signed the petition for a caucus of Republican congressmen Thursday night to force definite action on the soldier bonus.

They were Representatives Fitzgerald of Dayton, Morgan of Newark, Sparks of Columbus, Foster of Athens, and Cole of Findlay. Fitzgerald as a former service man, was one of the leaders in the movement which is almost certain to force a rift in Republican ranks at a time when leaders are striving hard to present a unified front in support of the Mellon taxation reduction plan which frowns upon the bonus.

Majority Leader Longworth has advised against the caucus but bonus congressmen apparently are determined to ignore his advice.

ROUGE IN USE 700 B. C.

NEW ORLEANS — (Associated Press) — Count Byron Khun De Prorok, archaeologist, author and artist, who was in charge of the work of unearthing the remains of the ancient metropolis of Carthage under the auspices of the French government, in a lecture here last night stated that among the relics of classic civilization in Africa brought to light during the three years of excavation of the ruins, was a terra cotta organ with pipes and pedals, more than two thousand years old, the boudoir of a lady of rank which contained rouge, face powder, dating from 700 B. C.

RECORD SHOW IS SPONSOR'S AIM

Biggest Automobile Exhibit in City's History Planned

FAITH IN LIMA INDICATED

Contract Let for Decorating Timmerman-Bldg.

Faith in the business future of Lima is expressed by the Lima Automobile Dealers' Association in its plans for the annual automobile show here Feb. 19-23, according to J. B. Timmerman, president of the Lima Automobile club, whose building at 545 W. Market-st will be used for the show.

Plans for the show, which is underwritten by the Great American Mutual Indemnity Co., of Mansfield, an auto insurance company, as revealed by Timmerman and William Howells, of the Overland sales organization, specify that it will be fourth in the state.

No effort, no expense, will be spared to make this year's exhibit the greatest which Lima ever has known. Every member of the dealers' association in good standing, will exhibit automobiles both open and closed, and trucks.

33,000 SQUARE FEET
Contract for the decoration of the Timmerman-bldg. already have been let by R. H. Phillips, employed by the Great American company, to put on the show here, and who is now conducting the Cleveland auto show. More than 33,000 square feet of the floor space, more than the Columbus show is to have, will be occupied.

It is estimated there are 13 million cars now in the United States, according to figures from the showmen, with four million more to be built in 1924. The number of cars in the country in 10 years will be 20 million, it is said, the scrapping of old cars causing the discrepancy. More cars are said to have dropped out of registration during the first six months of 1923, than were built up to 1915.

Lima's prospects are extremely bright for the automobile field, it is pointed out, and one of the best and most profitable shows in the history of the city and this section the state is anticipated.

DEATH IS PROBED

Man's Body Found in Office at Holland, Ohio

TOLEDO — (United Press) — With a bullet wound in his head, the body of Arlington Elliott, 30, partner with his brother, William, in a garage at Holland, Ohio, 12 miles west of here, was found today lying on the floor near a cash register in the office of the garage.

Coroner Henzler and deputy Sheriffs Dittman and McClosky who were called after discovery of the body by James Dunn, who went to the garage after his automobile, believe that Elliott was shot down without being given an opportunity to defend himself. There were no signs of a struggle in the office. The safe was locked.

Three empty 32 caliber cartridges were found on the floor of the office near the body.

PROGRAM IS OUTLINED IN 1924 REPORT

$60,000 to be Spent on New Lines During Coming Year

RECORDS ARE ESTABLISHED

Many Service Lines Connected by Department, Evans Says

Lima's municipal water works faces an extension and improvement program in 1924 of about $135,000 according to the estimates of 1924 work submitted to City Manager Bingham Tuesday by Superintendent Charles Evans of the water department.

This includes the laying of 6.27 miles of brand new mains, spending $60,000 for mains and services on streets where paving has been ordered and $75,000 for new additions and sections of the city not now reached by water mains, he says.

ANNUAL REPORT
His figures are contained in his annual report also submitted to the city manager. The largest new main to be laid in 1924 is a 12 inch main down Reese-av to about Eleventh-st.

In 1923, according to his annual report submitted at the same time, the city laid about 8 1/2 miles of water mains of which 4 1-5 miles were new mains.

His report shows that there was laid in 1923 1,085 feet of new 12 inch mains, 4,248 feet of new 10 inch mains; 1,396 feet of new eight inch mains; 10,958 feet of new six inch mains and 4,574 feet of new four inch mains.

There were 20 new fire hydrants with six inch bottoms and eight new fire hydrants with eight inch bottoms, the report says. There were 330 service connections made during the year involving the laying of 5,188 feet of pipe while the department laid 14,142 feet of mains ahead of new paving. On top of this, 150 services were laid requiring 3,000 feet of lead pipe.

NEW METERS
There were 493 new meters installed during the year of which 344 were basement meters and 149 curb meters. Then the department made 150 repairs to service leaks and 100 repairs to main line leaks. During the year 2,100 meters were tested and 1,684 meters were changed and repaired. In the same period 150 fire hydrants were repaired, 300 hydrants were thawed, 600 hydrants were pumped and the department had 8,736 emergency calls.

Discussing the bridge situation the report says, "The construction of bridges over the Ottawa river at High-st and Bellefontaine-av compels the abandonment of the present main lines on the river bottom. Arrangements should be made at the earliest time possible to procure the necessary material to rebuild these lines over the bridges as soon as the arches have been completed."

Discussing the 1924 outlook Superintendent Evans says in his report that it will take for work on streets for which paving improvements have already been legislated, $60,000 to lay mains and service lines ahead of this new paving. "Building activity in new additions and in territory not reached by water mains," says the report, "if present plans on file in the water department are carried out."

In concluding his annual report Superintendent Evans thanks city officials for their cooperation and gives special praise to Fire Chief John Mack. "I wish to thank the city manager and the city commission for their cooperation," he wrote. "I also wish at this time to extend to all other departments my appreciation of all assistance rendered, especially to the fire department under Fire Chief John Mack who has on numerous occasions, rendered valuable assistance."

NEWS STREET HUSTLERS ENJOY ORPHEUM SHOW
Fifty street hustlers for The Lima News were guests of Manager Bob Shaw at the New Orpheum theatre Monday night. They were given a special performance by the "Million Dollar Dolls" company.

Bugle calls by Lefty Shields called the boys together at 7 p. m. and they marched to the theatre. Every one of the boys enjoyed the show and showed it by applause. Lefty said Tuesday.

HAIR MATCHES CHICKEN FEATHERS

Perhaps one could call this young lady "some chicken" without being complimentary. She is Miss Bertha O'Connor, telephone operator, of Cincinnati, O., and she won first prize at a recent poultry show because her hair was an exact match for the plumage of Rhode Island Red chickens. Forty-two other girls tried but Miss O'Connor's hair won her first prize and a gold wrist watch.

ATTEMPT TO SANDBAG SOLDIER BONUS CHARGED

Mellon Idea Scathingly Attacked by New York Senator

"WOULD PROTECT WEALTHY"

Taxes Can be Cut and Veterans Paid, He Argues

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Charging that Secretary Mellon had "attempted to sandbag the bonus, using a formidable weapon, the pocketbook of the nation," Senator Copeland, Democrat of New York, told the senate today he did not consider tax reduction and the soldiers' bonus "so related that one must die if the other live."

Pointing out that the treasury secretary had said that in the long run the surtax reduction which he had promised, would bring an estimated increase in revenue of $102,000,000, Senator Copeland proposed that this be used as the basis for the payment of the bonus.

PLAN PROPOSED
Declaring in favor of all cash payments to the service men at the rate of $125 for each day of service, Senator Copeland said the total of $1,464,777,293 could be raised in six years with a payment of one hundred million dollars yearly, seventy-five millions in interest and twenty-five millions in principal.

Should the additional revenue Mellon has promised not be realized the senator said, the surtax could be restored "because the bonus must be paid."

"The real purpose of the Mellon plan, of course, is to reduce the surtaxes on the rich," Senator Copeland declared, "and the taxes are cut in half, from fifty to twenty-five per cent. The rest of us, as usual, under a Republican administration, get only the crumbs."

The new members heard J. W. Geusel, Frank Mullenhour and F. M. Calvert, retiring members.

CIVIC BODIES ADMIT NEED FOR CITY AID

Family Welfare Association Debts Have Not Been Paid

HOSPITAL FUNDS ARE LOW

Charity Treatments Hindered by Failure of City to Pay

Unless the city commission soon comes to the relief of both the Family Welfare Association and the City hospital, both institutions will have to curtail their work for poor people, statements made at the city commission meeting Monday night during a public discussion of the budget revealed.

When Mayor Moyer offered the privilege of the floor to any citizen to discuss any subject, N. L. Michalose and introduced Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson, saying she had a "bad story to tell."

Mrs. Jackson called attention to the fact that the 1924 budget provides only $1,600 for outdoor relief and $1,400 of this sum is to pay grocery bills due from the big trust of relief work in the winter of 1921 and 1922.

$5,000 A MONTH
During four months of that winter it cost an average of $5,000 per month to meet the relief demand, she said, and the total item of 1921 budget for this work was only $3,500. She said the outdoor relief work for 1924 could not be handled on $200 from the city, unless some other income is available.

Mayor Moyer offered to entertain a motion that the request be taken under consideration by the commission, but the motion was forthwith withdrawn. Harold Cunningham said that a motion would not solve the problem. "Since this commission was first formed in Lima we have lacked the means to properly take care of our worthy poor," said the commissioner. "Two years ago we had this in mind when we asked a two mill levy, but we were turned down. Lima should take care of its needy."

Frank Baxter then spoke for the City hospital. He said that the city under its contract owes the hospital association $6,700 for the free care of city patients who were unable to pay their own way.

WORK TO STOP
"Until the city comes to the relief of the hospital," said Baxter, "something will happen and that something will be that the poor people who cannot pay their way will have to be refused treatment. We have gone as far as we can in paying for the free patients from the city as the city has by contract agreed to give us."

Commissioner Cunningham spoke for the library, saying that the city under contract to give the institution $4,000 per year, but has not done so, because of lack of funds.

He asked a three mill levy for 1924, said the commissioner. "It was denied us. We do not have the right to open to win and we have had to cut to the bone and still lack money. If we had the three mill levy we could take care of all these things."

Mayor Moyer asked Manager Bingham how much deficit faces the commission right now on 1924 operating costs to which the city manager replied there would be a difference of $45,000 between the income and the expenses of the five funds.

Commissioner Cunningham commented the 1923 budget with those of former years. He said the 1923 budget was 1920, $76,718, 1921, $82,222, 1922, $109,600, 1923, $109,600, and 1924, $109,600. He said, "shows a deficit of $47,000 between the 1920 and 1924 budgets in favor of the 1920 budget."

Mayor Moyer asked the auditor to suggest some way out of the financial troubles, but not a suggestion was made.

LEADERSHIP OF U. S. IS RECOGNIZED BY LEAGUE

Refuses to Intervene in Any American Controversy

UNWRITTEN LAW OBSERVED

Practice Explained in Peace
Plan Selected by Jury

Following is the last section of the peace plan selected by the award jury in the contest for the $100,000 prize offered by Edward W. Bok: (the first section was published in yesterday's Lima News.)

Another significant development in the constitutional practice of the League is the unwillingness of the League Council to intervene in any American controversy, even the states in the New World except three are members of the League.

Their refusal became evident in the Panama-Costa Rica dispute in 1921 and in the quarrel between Chile, Peru and Bolivia, a quarrel which impelled the last two States to absent themselves from the Third Assembly, where a Chilean was chosen to preside.

Obviously the League intends to recognize the leadership of the United States in the New World precisely as the United States claims it. This is nothing less than the observance of an unwritten law limiting the powers and duties of the League.

THE PLAN IN BRIEF

1. That the United States shall immediately enter the Permanent Court of International Justice, and the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1925.
2. That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States shall offer to extend its present cooperation with the League and participate in the work of the League as a body of mutual counsel under conditions which:

1. Substitute moral force and public opinion for the military and economic force originally included in Article X.
2. Safeguard the Monroe Doctrine.
3. Accept the fact that the United States will assume no obligations under the Treaty of Versailles except by Act of Congress.
4. Provide that membership in the League should be open to all nations.
5. Provide for the continuing development of international law.

Council, defined in Article XI of the Covenant to questions that seem to threaten the peace of the Old World. When the United States is willing to bring the two halves of the world together for friendly consideration of common dangers, duties and goals, it will be possible to secure, if as desired, closer cooperation between the League organizations and the Pan-American Union, already a body have become Continuation Committees for the administrative work of the League of Nations, such as the may eventually clearly define certain powers and duties of relatively local significance which may be developed upon local associations of nations.

But the world of business and finance is already united. The worlds of scientific knowledge and humane efforts are nearly so. Isolation of any kind is increasingly impossible, and the world organization, already centralized, is no more likely to return to disconnected effort than the United States is likely to revert to the Calhoun theory of State Rights and Secession.

ACTUAL OPERATION
The operation of the League has therefore evolved a Council widely different from the body imagined by the makers of the Covenant. It can employ no force but that of persuasion and moral influence. Its only actual powers are to confer and advise, to create commissions, to exercise inquisitive, conciliatory and arbitral functions, and to help elect judges of the Permanent Court.

In other words, the force of circumstances is gradually moving the League into position upon the foundations so well laid by the world leaders between 1899 and 1907. In that period, the assemblies of the League and the Congresses of the International Labor Organizations are successors to the Hague Conferences.

The Permanent Court has at least begun to realize the highest hope and purpose of the Second League Conference. The Secretariat and the Labor Of-

should be authorized to propose cooperation with the League and participation in the work of its Assembly and Council under the following conditions and reservations:

I. The United States accepts the League of Nations as an instrument of mutual counsel but it will assume no obligation to interfere with political questions of policy or internal administration of any foreign state.

In uniting its efforts with those of other States for the preservation of peace and the promotion of the common welfare, the United States does not abandon its traditional attitude concerning American independence of the Old World and does not consent to submit its long established policy concerning questions regarded by it as purely American to the recommendation or decision of other Powers.

II. The United States will assume no obligations under Article X, in its present form in the Covenant, unless in any particular case Congress has authorized such action.

The United States will assume no obligations under Article XVI, in its amended form as now proposed, unless in any particular case Congress has authorized such action.

The United States proposes that Article X and XVI be either dropped altogether or so amended and changed as to eliminate any suggestion of a general agreement to use coercion for obtaining conformity to the pledges of the Covenant.

III. The United States will accept no responsibility and assume no obligation in connection with any duties imposed upon the League by the peace treaties, unless in any particular case Congress has authorized such action.

UNITED STATES PROPOSAL
IV. The United States proposes that Article I of the Covenant be construed and applied, or, if necessary, redrafted, so that admission to the League shall be assured by any self-governing State that wishes to join and that receives the favorable vote of two-thirds of the Assembly.

V. As a further condition of its participation in work and councils of the League, the United States asks that the Assembly and Council consent—or obtain authority—to begin collaboration for the revision and development of international law, employing, for this purpose, the aid of a commission of jurists. This Commission would be directed to formulate anew existing rules of the law of nations, to consider points hitherto inadequately provided for but vital to justice, and in general to define the to the maintenance of international social rights and duties of States. The recommendations of the Commission would be presented from time to time, in proper form for consideration, to the Assembly as to a recommending if not a lawmaking body.

Among these conditions, Numbers I and II have already been discussed. Number III is a logical consequence of the refusal of the United States Senate to ratify the treaty of Versailles, and of the settled policy of the United States which is characterized in the first reservation. Concerning Numbers IV and V this may be said:

Anything less than a world-conference, especially when Great Powers are excluded, must incur, in proportion to the exclusions, the suspicion of being an alliance, rather than a family of nations. The United States can render service in emphasizing this lesson, learned in the Hague Conference, and in thus helping to reconstitute the family of nations as it really is. Such a conference or assembly must obviously bear the chief responsibility for the devel-

WORLD'S BIGGEST DAM STARTED

Railings of Indian Structure 770 Feet Above Foundation

20,000 WORKERS EMPLOYED

500,000 Acres Will be Irrigated After 7 Years' Effort

LONDON—The world's largest dam, the central unit in an irrigation scheme so vast in its conception as to make even Americans who are accustomed to gigantic irrigation and engineering projects marvel at it, is being built on the banks of the Indus in India. American government irrigation works in western India are small in comparison to the great project near Sukkar, in the province of Sind.

The dam, which will be known as the Lloyd Barrage in honor of Sir George Lloyd, governor of Bombay, will be nearly a mile long. Two bridges will be built upon it, one at a low level slightly above the level of the river banks and the other at a high level. The railings of the high level bridge will be 770 feet above the foundations, or as high as the tower of the Woolworth building in New York.

The foundation stone of the dam was laid on Oct. 24, 1923, and 20,000 workers are employed, but the project will not be completed, even under favorable working conditions, until June, 1930.

Then the work of regulating and preserving the flow of the Indus by means of 60 massive steel gates each weighing 40 tons, will be possible. While the dam is being built another 10,000 workers are busy constructing a gigantic network of canals which will carry water over an area almost as great as England.

Immediately above the dam seven canals will carry the silt laden waters of the Indus over wide areas of the province of Sind. The Rohri canal will be 205 miles long, with 2,300 miles of branches. The central rice canal, 87 miles long, will irrigate 600,000 acres of the finest rice growing land in India. Similar waterways will radiate in all directions from the central reservoir. Three of these canals will be wider than the Suez canal.

When the Lloyd barrage is finally completed, the province of Sind thru which the lower Indus flows, is expected to share the prosperity of the Punjab, which is due mainly to the successful irrigation of the upper reaches of the river.

Vast areas of arid, desert land will become rich fields of rice, cotton and wheat; there will be large movements of natives from the densely populated districts of India, and the sparsely inhabited banks for 200 miles along the lower course of the Indus will become a hive of industry and form another great granary for India and the British Empire.

The whole scheme is being financed by the government of Bombay the estimates calling for $60,000,000, of which $17,500,000 will be spent upon the dam. It is calculated that the net annual profit to the government will be 14 per cent.

HIS VOICE IS IN AIR BUT HEART'S WITH SONGBIRDS OF OPERA STAGE

Mail Service Flyer Sings His Music Lessons at Work
CONCERT STAR IS HIS AIM
Trains to Risky He Says As He Sticks to Planes

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
MINEOLA, N. Y. — (Special) —
Discovered: A real rare avis—an honest-to-goodness rare bird. It's habitat? A half a mile, or higher, up in the air between Long Island and Cleveland, and most points west.
And it's the funniest looking bird you ever did see. For it doesn't look like a bird at all.
Yet it's a songster, the like of which has never sung in these parts before. As it soars above the clouds, it bursts into song more powerful and mellow than any ever sang so high.
It's name, Wesley L. Smith.
You've heard it before. For it's the name of the dare-devil pilot that battled the elements and rode out a storm to scoop the world with the news pictures of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight in Shelby, Mont., last summer, which were published in The Lima News. And later repeated the performance with a daring night flight westward directly after the Fitz-Dempsey fight in New York.
He flies to develop his powers as a songster.
"I hope," he said when he came to earth after a hard fight, "I hope to become an opera star."
"You that won't be for many years, for the training is stiffer than any I had to undergo to become a flyer."
If ever he becomes as good a singer as he is flyer, his friends on the airfield and in musical circles say that he will be at the top of the list. For Smith has a record that is the envy of every flyer.
He hasn't had a forced landing in the past two years of his flying in the U. S. air mail service. Yet he has at least 11 times a week, and usually more, over the Alleghenies, and often farther.
"Whenever there is a special commercial flight, such as carrying news pictures, he is the first to get the job, and usually the first to come thru."
"I began singing," says Smith, "while I was studying electrical engineering at the University of California. As an elective subject I took a course in choral singing. It was the first time I ever tried to sing, but the instructors encouraged me. They said I had a singular voice which might become good, if properly trained."
"At first I thought they were kidding. But following their advice, I began singing. I found that I could move then half the money I make flying preparing for the opera and concert stage. I take singing in singing, French, piano, lightening and all the other kind of subjects that have to be mastered before one can try to qualify for professional work."
"My coach is Luckstone, who coached each of the Nordica, Lambert Murphy and others. But I believe I am having a harder time with me than he ever had with them."
"Music is a big book. And I didn't start to master it when I was a kid. So I have to learn the fundamentals that most of the singers of all ages have learned."
"But I'm not losing any time getting them now. While flying I sing to myself in the air."
"It's hard work trying to outsing the hum of the motor, but I try it anyhow. For the more singing of melody or thinking in the mind some exercises."
"And I always carry a French book with me. I take it to Cleveland and sing it between hops."
"Just what does he try to sing a moment before above the clouds, he is flying along at a hundred miles an hour or more?"
"Largo. 'Où Carlo Bene' is my favorite. It means: 'Away from me, I languish.'"
"And believe me, I sure am far away from the noise of the time. I like Italian and French."
"But of the other melodies I prefer 'Myself When Young,' and, of course, 'Kipling's Mandalay.'"
"But I'm not that far along in the time to make my comparative valuation of these songs. I only can say that I like them."
"But in time I hope to make singing my avocation and flying my avocation. As it is now the two are mixed."
"The first I expect to travel on a plane to make a plane which I like wherever I want to go."
Except for the suburban train which he goes to get to the flying club in Manhattan, Smith never leaves a train. He is too busy, he says. So he covers the country by air.

P. O. RECEIPTS UP 10 PERCENT

Total for Lima During 1923 Reported at $250,997

Postal receipts for the year 1923 amounted to $250,997.71, according to the annual report just completed, says Postmaster Albert E. Gale. "Lima is a growing town," Gale states. "It is just reaching the peak it started to slip back from a few years ago. The postal receipts show an increase of 10% and I see no reason why they should not increase another 10% next year. The receipts during the last quarter totaled $71,216. If that ratio is continued, we will make more than the 10% increase."
Because of the jump in postal earnings, Gale's bond was recently increased from $11,000 to $44,000.

WORKMAN HURT IN FALL

THRU COAL CAR HOPPER
Emmett Clark, 50, 900 E. Kibby, was injured seriously shortly before noon Tuesday when he slipped and fell thru a coal hopper while unloading coal at the Solar Refinery plant, where he is employed.
That he escaped fatal injury probably was due to the fact that the coal in the car was frozen, thereby preventing the entire load from descending upon him. He was only partially buried.
Clark suffered injuries about the head and left side. He was removed to his home in an ambulance.

DR. RUDY THROWS HAT IN RING

Seeks G. O. P. Nomination for State Senatorship

Dr. A. S. Rudy, 215 W. North-st., is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from this district.

Republican voters have commenced to receive letters from Dr. Rudy announcing that he seeks the party nomination for state senator to succeed S. V. Ferguson of Van Wert-co.

There are four counties in the thirty-second district, Allen, Van Wert, Anguize and Mercer. The announcement of Dr. Rudy is expected to bring other hats into the state senatorial ring from this district and will, also, politicians believe, break the ice for the candidates for the lower house for another.

RUMORS ARE RIFE OF SENSATIONS

Startling Disclosures Hinted as Grand Jury Gets Busy

Reports that testimony of a startling character was introduced before the Allen-co grand jury Tuesday in matters of vital public importance could not be verified.

County authorities admitted, however, that an out of the ordinary session might develop as result of the jury's investigations.

Session of the grand jury is scheduled to wind up late Tuesday, according to Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott.

A total of 55 witnesses had testified before the jury at noon Tuesday. Of the number 22 were before the jury on Monday.

Investigation of three attempted killings was made by the jury Tuesday.

IT'S DANDELION TIME," SAYS TED

Ted basked in the warm sunlight Tuesday morning and watched the mercury slowly climb upward in his thermometer.

"That's one thing I like to see," he said. "Generally it's the prices of food and fuel that goes up and that isn't so good." Ted dropped into the weather man's office and discovered that it will be fair and warmer Tuesday night and Wednesday. If it keeps on getting warmer, we will begin to think it is spring and the dandelions will start blooming again," mused Ted.

An inventory and appraisal of the estate of the late W. E. Baker, filed in probate court Tuesday by Emma E. Schulenberg, executor, shows a total property valuation of $2378. Appraisers are E. W. Weir, George Godfrey, and Charles Murray.

TWO HELD IN FOUR ROBBERIES

Police Say Confession Tells of Pair's Thefts Here

CLOTHING TAKEN AND SOLD

All Except That Disposed of in Ft. Wayne Recovered

Four robberies are attributed to police by Joseph Fisher, charged with grand larceny of clothing from the room of Gerald A. Marshall, were scheduled for 1:30 p. m. Tuesday before Judge Nell R. Poling.

The pair were arrested here Monday morning and confined in default of $500 bail each.

The recovery at a pawn shop of clothing stolen from T. D. Plummer, 426 Railroad-st., was announced by police.

Looking into her leathery face and at the warped figure, one wonders at the murderous plot with young Peter Cradelle, who is under sentence with her.

"Me no look nothing," she says in the little English she has learned since coming to prison.

This sense of appeal to the eye, in her mind, is the reason why the jury brought in the verdict of guilty for the murder of her husband, Frank Nitti.

SO G IS HER BAIN
Except for the half-realized dread of "strang-a," and the separation from her "babes," Sabelle would call the jail a refuge.

She has erased the physical tragedy of surroundings with her song. Seemingly, it has beaten down the sharpest pangs of memory and dread of what has been ordained.

However, the common guess, both inside and outside the jail, is that she never will be executed.

The only other woman ever sentenced to death in Illinois, 27 years ago, escaped the penalty.

But Sabelle's eyes see dangling over her the sword of Damocles as plainly as ever did a king.

Gripped with physical panic she is powerless to philosophize.

Nor does it make much difference to her that legends of her own sex, drawn from welfare agencies and civic clubs, are bearing success to secure a commutation to life imprisonment.

"Me no kill my man," she moans. "And they strang-a-me."

A hoarse shriek follows the utterance.

Then comes once more the singing melody.

Sabelle is dispersing her fears and grief once more.

DOOMED WOMAN MARKS TIME FOR GRIM REAPER

(CHICAGO Special.)—With weird incantation thru the condemned chambers of the death house here resounded the infant echoes of a descendant Italy as Mrs. Sabelle Nitti Cradelle bled herself with the opiate of song to meet the hangman's grim embrace.

Dumpy and squat and with no redeeming gift of grace, the dumb-bell little woman marks time for the grim reaper, soon to claim her on the scaffold in fulfillment of the penalty for murdering her man.

The condemned presents an atom of Italian blood, she is but a creature of primitive physical instincts, and completely incapable of mentally measuring the great cup of grief not in stone by the law.

But her alone interest here, Nitti, a long-haired, of habits as a hard-working housewife, been set aside.

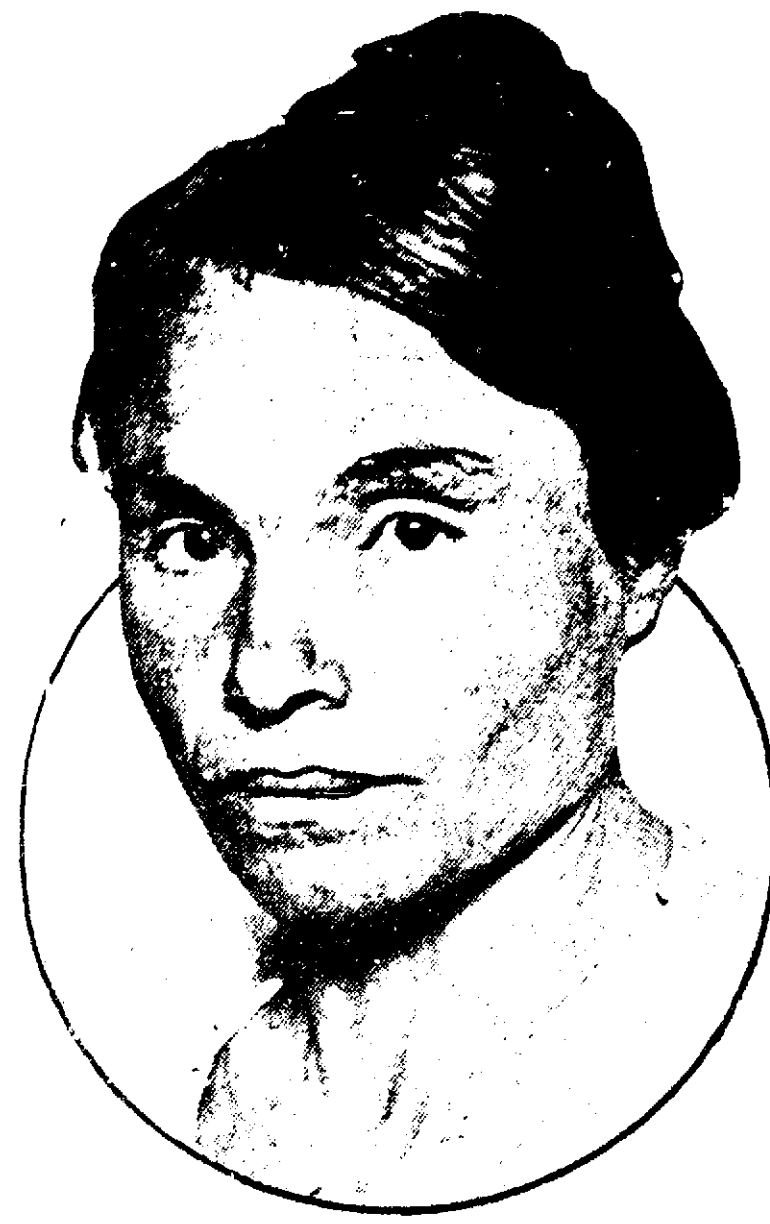

WORKS TO FORGET DOOM
Each day as the woman marks time for the grim reaper, the first of the death row by passing white the flag of her cell and motionlessly, during the time, something resembling quarters of the doomed from these ordinary prisoners.

But through the long hours and sometimes far into the night, that woman, who is part of the folk one form of a nation that can be heard with a piano, is again, the jail walls and cell, to come hurrying back like a battered bird seeking escape from the dark darkness within.

This same snatch of melody the condemned woman in years gone by was wont to sing beside the cradle of her babies. Today it is her only solace—a monotonous, echoed incantation, soothed upon as "me no kill my man."

Thus in her pitiable plight has she been made doubly pathetic as a creature void of expression, vainly endeavoring to communicate to outsiders what is going on behind the heavy wall of hair and scowling brow to sear and crumble with premature marks of age.

Translated, the pushing torrent of music bears resemblance to the English version of "Rock-a-Bye Baby, in the Tree Top." Forever, it floats about the jail exterior where anxious guards are becoming unmoved by the scene. But Mrs. Nitti stings on. Only occasionally does she talk and then in breath-sucking monologues to hiss between half-parted

TRIAL DATES SET FOR "FENCES"

Two Implicated by Boys Face Charges Next Week

John Simoniak, grocer, 114 W. Third-st., and Nick George, grocer, 236 E. Third-st., involved as alleged "fences" for a band of clothed boys, will face trial in common pleas court during the coming week on charges of receiving and concealing stolen goods.

Three boys caught with signs and other merchandise stolen from the B. & O. railroad, are said to have implicated the two grocers in a series of southside car robberies. The two stole the goods and sold them thru the two grocers, they told authorities.

Nick George, is a brother of Alex George, N. Pine-st. grocer, said to have been driven from the city by fear of the vengeance of the "black hand."

Common-law, three in number, after sending George letters demanding money, invaded his store and shot and killed Eason Stewart, the owner's father-in-law. The murderers escaped, and have never been apprehended.

Simoniak will stand trial Jan. 14, according to a list of criminal case assignments made by Judge Becker, and Nick George will stand trial Jan. 15. Other criminal cases are to fill in the remainder of the week.

POLICE SPOIL FUN

Somebody Kicks and Coasting Party is Broken up

Days of winter are short-lived. If it isn't the sun that melts the snow and spills coasting it is the police.

FARM OUTLOOK IS MORE HOPEFUL

Situation Reviewed by U. S. Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—The economic condition of the farm has improved considerably, according to the committee on statistics of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and his outlook for 1924 is even more hopeful.

The committee, in a semi-annual review of business conditions made public today, attributes the agricultural improvement chiefly to the diminished spread between prices for farm products and manufactured articles.

This has been brought about by a large export, it says, thru co-operative marketing and better opportunity for financing with the "general liquidation" of obligation "wherever returns from the crops permit" and expected reductions in acreage this spring with a consequent adjustment of supply and demand.

Building and construction is described in the report as showing unusual activity for the season and since it is in progress "almost entirely in the cities," the committee

FINDS IT "ONE OF THE MANY EVIDENCES" OF THE "MOMENTOUS AND SIGNIFICANT" RATE AT WHICH THE COUNTRY IS LOSING POPULATION TO THE CITIES.

Altho the output of automobiles "continues at an enormous rate" a slowing down in this and in the building industry is predicted as the year advances, "due generally to a potential capacity of output which overtops any immediate likelihood of demand, especially at this season of the year" and the "general conservatism in buying which prevails all classes."

"Upon the whole," the report states, "the situation seems healthy and sound, with conservatism strongly in evidence in all sections."

BRITISH SOLONS IN SESSION

Parliament Assembles in Atmosphere of Eager Expectation

LONDON—(Associated Press)—Altho King George's fifth parliament, assembling today, met in an atmosphere of eager political expectation, the first session itself offered no opportunity for sensational development, for its only immediate business was the unopposed re-election of the Right Hon. John Henry Whitley as speaker of the commons with the customary felicitations from the leaders of the three political parties.

The swearing in of the new members, chosen at the election of December 6, follows, and the remainder of the week in the house of commons will be occupied with these preliminary formalities.

The real political interest of the next few days lies outside the halls of parliament, in the meeting places of the various parties and in their consultations at which the country's immediate political future will be shaped. These meetings will be private.

The house ways and means committee continued today its work on the administrative provisions of the Mellon tax plan while awaiting the party conference of house Republicans on the question of whether a bonus measure is to be reported ahead of tax revision.

Agriculture, which was the subject of public hearings before both the senate and house agricultural committees, with representatives of farmers' organizations appearing before each. Both committees have before them the Norris-Sinclair farm purchasing and selling corporation bill which was approved by witnesses yesterday before the senate committee.

The agricultural situation since was the subject of an address in the house by Representative Leavitt, Republican, Montana.

DISTRICT SEWER DEMANDED

County Commissioners Receive Plea of Realty Owners

Creation of a district sewer, similar to those inside the corporate limits of Lima is sought in an application to the county commissioners filed by Baxter Brothers, and other realty owners, holding subdivisions sites west of the city.

Commissioners were to have gone to Dayton Tuesday to view a similar sewer district created by the Montgomery commissioners, but postponed the trip.

Bonds may be issued to pay the cost of the sewer, and the amount assessed back onto the property owners. Commissioners have taken no action, and are doing so may ask the property owners to seek annexation to Lima and then obtain the improvement sought thru the city.

U. S. SENATE STILL IN DEADLOCK

Insurgents Continue to Block Election of Cummins

SMITH HOLDS LEAD IN VOTE

Taxes and Bonus Are up for Debate Today

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—Taxes, the soldiers' bonus, farm aid and Russia were subjects to which congress gave its attention today either in debate on the floor or in committees.

Having failed to break the deadlock over the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee yesterday, the senate faced a renewal of the contest but with little prospect of a decision.

Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, continued to lead yesterday, but with the insurgents and so-called progressives on the Republican side supporting Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, and the regulars voting for Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, he fell several votes short of a necessary majority.

Taxes and the bonus were the combined subject of a prepared address by Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, after the transaction of the usual routine business in the morning.

TWO ARE SLAIN BY GUNMEN

Chicago Policeman is Victim of Negroes' Bullets

HIS PARTNER IS WOUNDED

One Man Shot to Death in Labor War

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Two of three negro gunmen who shot and killed Patrolman Vincent Skiba and wounded his partner, Joseph C. Lamb, last night, were hanged without Chicago's black belt today. One was captured.

Skiba and Lamb had answered a robbery call in South Chicago. As they alighted from a car near the scene of the robbery, three negroes opened fire.

Skiba fell to the street with two bullet wounds in his body. Lamb, shot in the foot, pursued Skiba's assailants without avail.

A few minutes before his death, Skiba had uttered a score of young patrolmen on the benefits of the policeman's benevolent association.

"You never know when you're going to get it," he said. "Maybe tonight, maybe tomorrow night."

LABOR WAR

Fearing further outbreaks in Chicago's labor war, which last night resulted in one death and the wounding of two, police mobilized to day to guard union meeting places.

John Dunne was shot to death and John Dunne was severely wounded in a battle just outside the doors of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers Union while a meeting was in progress. Both were said to have been leaders of one faction in the organization.

Patrick Berrel, president of the International Union of Truck Drivers and Chauffeurs, was wounded by a bullet from unknown assailants a few hours earlier. Gunmen on a rival chauffeurs' union were captured for the shooting of police.

Chicago officers said they feared fresh clashes in the smoldering war in labor circles. A special was assigned to guard a joint meeting of two teams' unions today in which a hotly contested election is scheduled to take place.

More than 50 labor leaders were rounded up and held for questioning in connection with yesterday's shooting.

A bandit, apparently unassisted, held up and robbed James J. Collins, dining car conductor on Rock Island Train Number 19, of $100 as it was entering the Chicago terminal last night.

The bandit found Collins alone in the dining car beat him over the head with the butt of the revolver, took the $100 and fired several shots into the ceiling as he swung from the train near the station. No trace of the robber could be found.

WOMAN IN HIDING, SHERIFF THINKS

Relatives Shield Mrs. Mohler, is Crosson's Belief

Mrs. Katherine Mohler, 70, Richmond-up woman, whose strange disappearance Dec. 31, has caused a nation wide search to be instituted, is now believed by Sheriff Crosson to be hiding with relatives or friends in the vicinity of Bluffton. Officers who are seeking trace of the missing woman are at sea as the persons with whom she may be hiding seem unwilling to divulge her whereabouts, unless compelled to do so.

Belief that the woman has not left the state was strengthened Tuesday when a telegram from Mrs. Princess Mohler, San Diego, Calif., was received by relatives. The message asserted she knew nothing of the whereabouts of her mother-in-law.

Sheriff Crosson also was informed by a neighbor Tuesday that Mrs. Mohler might be found near Pandora.

County authorities definitely have established that the woman was anxious to leave her husband. During the time William Mohler was in jail in November, when his sanity was inquired into, the wife is alleged to have stated she would leave.

She mentioned a date for leaving. Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott recalls the date named as Thanksgiving, while Sheriff Crosson is positive she said "the first of the year."

A farmer living near the Mohler place told Lippincott Tuesday he saw Mrs. Mohler Dec. 31, about 9 a. m. This practically disposes of all theory of foul play, as William Mohler had left the farm about 5 a. m., and was gone three days.

Lippincott is inclined to deprecate the importance of the message received from the coast. He points out that Mrs. Mohler hardly has had time to reach her destination should she have gone to San Diego. He also suggests Princess Mohler might be inclined to keep her presence secret.

THREE LIMA COMPANIES INCORPORATED TUESDAY

Incorporation of the H. K. Heininger Co. for $1,000 was announced Tuesday from Columbus. Incorporators were named as H. K. Heininger, Z. Brugler, J. J. Miller, Edith Shiverdecker and H. S. Anspach. Close upon the announcement came a report from the Red Top Taxi Co. of the purchase of five new taxi cabs for service in Lima.

Incorporation of two other Lima concerns was announced Tuesday. The S & K Manufacturing Co., Colest and Allentown-rd., was incorporated for $15,000 by Harry W. Kramer, Robert Crites, Edith Shiverdecker, H. M. McComb and Harry Shirk.

Gramm-Bernstein Truck Corporation was given $500 corporation papers with Thomas O. Marlar, John W. Winn, George Effler, R. W. Shumaker and Ellyn G. Davies named as incorporators.

MORE ARRESTS EXPECTED IN AX MURDER CASE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — The four negroes held in the county jail in connection with Birmingham's long list of ax attacks were indicted secretly for murder ten days ago and additional arrests are expected quickly. Two of the men are said by Sheriff Thomas J. Shirley and Solicitor Jim Davis to be leaders of an organized "ax syndicate" which in more than three years has attacked forty-four persons and killed 24 of them.

According to Solicitor Davis, the ax gang held secret meetings, and planned attacks. In some instances straw were drawn to decide which of the negroes actually would wield the instrument, he added.

"It is our plan to place the prisoners on trial within two or three weeks," Solicitor Davis said.

LIPPINCOTT NAMED AS KIWANIS CLUB PRESIDENT

Hugh Graham was elected to membership of the Kiwanis club Tuesday.

THEATRE MANAGER TELLS OF SHOW CANCELLATION

Faced with a threat to incarcerate him in jail for contempt, unless he replied to questions asked him, W. D. Clark, theatre manager, plaintiff in a suit against the Charles Abot Producing Co., took the latter alternative in common pleas court Monday.

Clark was cited before Judge Becker for refusing to reply to questions asked him by Abot's counsel Saturday. The information sought was whether or not he had received word that the "Stiles and Smiles Co." had cancelled its engagement.

Clark replied to the question, in the effect, that while he had had word expressing doubt as to ability of the company to keep the engagement, the information was not definite. He said he wrote to New York, but had no further word.

Considerable importance was attached by the authorities to the books seized in his office. He was released early today under $5,000 bond while his wife's bond was fixed at $3,000 and the bonds of his employees at $2,000 and $1,000.

A PLAN FOR WORLD PEACE

MEMBERS of the jury which considered the 22,000 plans for world peace under the Bok award has just announced its decision. The name of the author has not been announced and his identity will not be made known until the completion of a nation-wide referendum on the plan. The author of the winning plan was known to only one member of the jury.

In brief, the plan as announced provides that the United States should immediately enter the Permanent Court of International Justice, following the exact lines laid down by the late President Harding in this respect; that without becoming a member, the United States should offer to extend to the League of Nations its present cooperation and participate in the work of the league as a body of mutual counsel under conditions which would (a) substitute moral force and public opinion for the military and economic force originally implied in Articles 10 and 16; (b) safeguard the Monroe Doctrine; (c) accept the fact that the United States will assume no obligations under the treaty of Versailles except by act of Congress; (d) propose that membership in the league shall be open to all nations; (e) provide for continuing development of international law.

The outstanding feature in the winning plan is the fact that the League of Nations is accepted as the basic body for bringing about world peace. The author shows that five-sixths of all nations and about four-fifths of mankind are already included in the league and argues that the member nations cannot and will not abandon this organization which has been operating three and a half years. This is his answer to any argument in favor of the creation of a new association, and he reasons that the nations outside the league at present are not of such character that the United States could not hope to cooperate with them to form a new association.

The plan virtually gets back to the old argument of the last presidential election—Article 10, principally, and 16, incidentally. If the plan should be favored by the majority in the referendum now under way and in which The Lima News is cooperating with newspapers throughout the country, it would be an indication that the league issue is not as dead as Mr. Coolidge declared it to be in his recent message to Congress.

The Lima News, always an advocate of the league, never believed the pact as brought back from the conference after the war was perfect. We did consider it the best plan that had been offered to prevent war and we believed that time would work out the weak and objectionable points in the organization just as the author of the winning plan shows they have been worked out and eliminated.

The author shows in his proposal that Article 10 of the Covenant has been practically nullified in the last three years and Article 16 has been amended so that the implied use of military power in the former and the blockade provision in the latter amount to little as far as the actual operation of the league is concerned. The United States had no hand in the working out of these problems due to the majority vote of our lawmakers. It may prove that we have simply lost that much time by not being in the league where we could cooperate with other nations from the inside rather than from the outside as we are doing today.

Our great nation must take a hand in any forward movement looking to world peace. Other nations are so dependent upon us and our future is so dependent upon relations with the rest of the world that we cannot continue to remain aloof. We will be drawn in little by little in any major project. It would be better to get in with a splash and help work out the destiny of the world as we must do in the end. The proposal of the winning plan undoubtedly would be a step in this direction.

CLOSER TOGETHER

ABOUT 125 million Christians of the Eastern Orthodox church adopt the same calendar the rest of us have. They had used another, the Julian calendar, dated two weeks ahead of ours, since 1582.

Maybe this seems like a small matter, this simple readjustment of the conflicting calendar. But it has taken nearly three and a half centuries to bring the Julians into camp. They held out until last October, and 1921 will be their first full year under our calendar.

Maybe there's still hope for agreement on some of life's other ancient points of dispute.

We've made a heap of progress since holdin' hands was regarded as about the last stop this side of the altar. Neither kin flare up, but thank goodness she can't find another job as quiet as a hired girl. (Copyright, 1924)

To the fulfillment of an Alaskan dream. And much vexed, however, that I had not suffered another nightmare. Belowstairs and with my back against the foetal warmth of the kitchen oven. Drunk, but not of the kitchen. And about my tongue. Yet did not cry out. So joyful that something was burning.

Did find that the parpers had come. The could not fathom it, during which had brought them. These boys too qualified to go on Dr. Cook's post. In the pit, much about Cal and Brian. But more about the cold. A political atmosphere must be heated, methinks. Saw where it grew so frigid at a certain restaurant, patronized for its flaming name, "The Hell-Fire," that the moonshine froze to amber crystals in the glasses. But scarce credit such a tale. For many reasons.

Lunched on hot tamales, luke-warm soup, and red peppers escalated. With a pudding whose sauce steamed, praise be. And the discourse on swimming at Miami beach. From whose summer shores comes word to me of a friend, enjoying pole in light toga. Brr.

Wandered to the window in time to see Mr. Jack Beall, former chief of noble bluecoats, passing in a stunning Lincoln. And the lamoon not tauting, either. Dr. Basinger going hastily into the house. Doctors and pestment! Wonder if Chester Cable and Mrs. Chester went to that movie they wanted to see?

In the afternoon, to the shoppe. And made out checks for Dad Prayers and saints, for they total more than he can afford. Or get, methinks. Hunter's Ding the biggest chum, I ever did see, and they quit selling port wine for a beverage. Came an underwriter who would have me protect my childer of the future. And wanted me to sign for a twenty-year life, where I could get it back. But did not.

Near evening, to the B. & O. trainshed, with parcels and vanity case. There taking train with Miss Marian Cable for my old school in Oxford. Where sleeping with a teacher, as permitted the alumni, will be my first treat as such. Left mother all vexed over her staid of an original story. And I can't see would acquire herself very heroically and brave. Then, too, she will the more confidence have, to keep the kitchen accounts in balance with the budget. So, away for the none.

THE MERITS OF CASTOR OIL

It hurts grandma worse than it hurts little Henry himself, but she just has to give it to him.

Among the great discoveries predicted for the twentieth century there is to be a boy who demands castor oil on his pancakes, and perhaps a grandma who doesn't give it on general principles.

The second noblest profession harbors some hoary old superstitions, but none more antique than the castor oil abuse. The chief merit of castor oil is its antiquity. Way back in old Rameses' day castor oil was a sovereign remedy for most of the ills flesh was ancestor to.

The next merit of castor oil is that it "produces the results." Any doctor who prescribes it will tell you that. And it is true. It produces justifiable nausea in most cases; it produces many of the most obstinate cases of constipation in children; it produces a feeling of disgust for medicine and doctors that carry the poor victims on to extravagant retaliation against the profession later in life; it produces a dread of the doctor.

Castor oil, like a promissory note, is binding in effect. That is why it is used in the treatment of diarrhoea. Most all cathartics have a secondary binding effect, but castor oil particularly.

It is unnecessary and unkind to inflict a dose of castor oil on a child when another physic will do as well. There are plenty to choose from. No need of selecting the crudest. Medicine may be good even if it isn't horrible.

AFTER A DREARY DAY

Well, I have seen it thru! A dreary day! From dawn to dusk the skies were sullen gray.

Not once I saw the splendor of the sun. Small joy was mine—but now the day is done.

Why did I grumble, why despise the rain? It did not ease my burden to complain.

The task is finished. I have done my part. But could have done it with a braver heart.

The thing I dreaded came. I knew it would: There on my desk, confronting me, it stood.

I railed in anger, but it did not stir. 'Twould still remain had I grown surer.

No course would alter what I had to do. And now 'tis finished, I have seen it thru.

I did not fail. I stood and held my place. But could have done it with a braver grace.

This is what hurts at last when night comes down. To turn and see how needless was the frown.

How needless was the anger I displayed. How little profit by my rage was made.

This had to be. 'Tis finished, closed and filed— Would I could say that as I worked I smiled!

The task is over. I have done my part. But could have done it with a braver heart. (Copyright, 1923)

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Really and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dried-out cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THIS LITTLE WORLD

NEW ORLEANS

BY MASON DIXON

NEW ORLEANS (Special)

They've installed an innovation at Roland's ancient cafe in Common-st. the heart of down-town New Orleans—an innovation that makes patrons doubly happy. Roland's management decided that patrons wanted to have the conversation all to themselves—so he hired a complete crew of dumb waiters. They all have their hearing, but not one can talk.

There are no arguments with waiters in Roland's now. And the patrons are doubly happy; first, because they don't have to listen to waiters' conversation, and second, because each can look up brightly and say, "I've heard of dumb-waiters somewhere before, haven't I? Nothing new in this idea."

And everybody laughs—just like that.

Louis Edwards, who owns the oldest barber shop in New Orleans, is figuring on hiring dumb barbers, he says.

They can hope for a white Christmas in the north. But New Orleans did more than hope. It planted one, and got it. The weather man helped, too, with sunny days and warm winter temperatures. All over New Orleans during Christmas week white violets blossomed, white roses bloomed, and the white petals of magnolias showered down.

The city's gardeners had planted almost every variety of white-petaled flower, and the shower of white petals throughout the city in Christmas week was a matter of comment by thousands of holiday visitors.

Christmas charity in New Orleans was enriched by $30 worth of profanity from New Orleans Lodge of Elks. During the past six months in the Elks' Club billiard room there has been a large iron bar.

An ordinary "damm" cost a five-cent fine. Rich, rotund outbursts ran all the way up to six-bits and a dollar, as the Cussing Committee representative, always in the room, ruled.

Colonel John P. Sullivan, past grand exalted ruler of the Elks of America, contributed ten cents to the fund—but he admits he doesn't play billiards much, and was only in the billiard room 45 seconds by the watch.

Had Stomach Trouble; Nervousness; Headaches; Plant Juice Relieves

100 PER CENT BETTER NOW

"I was so bad off with stomach trouble, nervousness and headaches that I hardly knew what to do, but your Plant Juice has relieved me so that I am feeling better than for years and I can't tell you how grateful I am to your medicine," said Mrs. Evelyn Stafford, of 44 South Seventeenth street, Newark, N. J., while talking recently with The Plant Juice Man.

"I couldn't eat anything without severe distress afterward and at times I couldn't keep food on my stomach at all. I was constipated; liver was sluggish and would fill with bile, causing biliousness and dizzy spells, and my kidneys were disordered and caused such backache at times that I just felt like crying from the misery of it. In addition, I was very nervous and slept poorly and it seemed like my system in general was in bad shape for I caught cold very easily and would hardly get over one cold until I had another. And I suffered from such terrible headaches. I thought it might be my eyes and had my eyes examined and glasses changed three times but without result.

"Your Plant Juice has just helped me so much that I can hardly express my gratitude. I have a good appetite now and my stomach has improved so much that I enjoy my meals and never suffer afterward from gas, bloating, nausea or any of the terrible misery I used to have. And also, those awful headaches have been relieved. In fact, I haven't had a single one since I started taking Plant Juice and this relief alone is surely worth a lot to me. My liver and kidneys work fine now; constipation has been relieved and I do not have biliousness or pains in my back. And my nerves are 100 per cent better so that I sleep like a child. In fact, the change in me is such that all my friends are remarking about it."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at the Hunter drug store, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets; also at the Argonne drug store, oppo. Post Office.

OWING to a change in program at the Lyric theatre, "Does It Pay?" starring Hope Hampton's star, Lyric, opens a three day engagement today, replacing "The Million Dollar Dolls".

Hope Hampton playing a role entirely different from any she has before in that of an intellectual and keen looking vamp, sets a new dramatic character of a girl to win John Weston from his family. She aspires to a position she would have to leave her wife, she also wants the wealth at her disposal. About as a man she cares nothing, this conflict of mind and matter is the clever way in which the girl handles her heart harp screen scenes, a grenade that disturbs her customary serenity of mind and explodes and wreaks havoc on the situation.

The film follows develops into situations of great magnitude. The ending is said to be totally unexpected.

Hope Hampton has been surrounded by an excellent cast composed of Robert Haines, Florence Short, Peggy Shaw, Mary Thurman, Charles Wellesley and other favorites.

A comedy and Fox News will be shown between features.

"The Girl Who Came Back"

THE new film in the list of attractions booked at the Lyric theatre is "The Girl Who Came Back" which will appear on Tuesday, Friday and Saturday.

The story of prison life and escape is a production well known to the audience. Tom Forman, who will be remembered, made some of the "The City of Silence" a grim study of "life up there" as well as several other "hook" pictures. Prior to directing Forman, Forman visited Sing Sing, where he spent two weeks in prison, studying the convicts, studying their psychology and mental reactions.

A cast of real screen notables will be seen in the picture, including William Cagney, Gaston Glass, Kenneth Harlan, Michel Shannon, Zazu Pitts and Mary Oliver.

The story of "The Girl Who Came Back" involves the regeneration of a girl whose efforts to clean the dirt of her life from the nucleus of such dramatic action, carrying the speaker from the slums of a New York city to the southernmost tip of Florida.

FIGHT STARTED ON TUBERCULOSIS

Putnam-co Farm Agent Warns of Danger Thru Animals

ORGANIZED WAR DEMANDED

Peril Never Was so Great as Henceroth's Reminder

OTTAWA — Launching his fight on tuberculosis in farm animals, County Farm Agent J. W. Henceroth issues a warning to Putnam-co farmers that never before has the situation been so alarming.

"Tuberculosis in milk cows, the hard and meat hogs and in poultry exists to an alarming extent in Putnam-co," a county veterinarian told me," said Henceroth. "It's time to fight and to fight from the shoulder, but it is of little use to go into it without organization."

"A blow here and there will be like swatting flies around a full garbage can—the source of contamination remains unchecked."

"Farmers of the county must get together in the matter and put up an intelligent, well-organized fight, to the end that our food sources be cleaned up and our family health safe-guarded," Henceroth concluded.

Recent observations carried on thru the farm bureau offices have revealed that tuberculosis in livestock has reached a point in Putnam-co which the average citizen does not dream. The fight to curb the spread of tuberculosis in the human family has been present for years, and is one of the greatest features of the national health program, officials agree. Scientific investigation of the sources of infection has shown the fact that the front line of battle lies right at home—in the farm yards of Putnam-co farmers. Tuberculosis in children and adults long has been known to come largely thru the milk supply, statistics showing that 25 per cent of the cases in children under five years of age come in this way.

Children and pigs, which are fed largely from the milk supply of the farm, are found in Putnam-co to be infected with tuberculosis in alarming numbers, according to Henceroth.

To the town man the term "reactor" carries little weight at present, the farm bureau office says. "It begins to mean the worst. A reactor is a cow, which under the test for tuberculosis administered by a veterinarian, has shown unmistakable signs of having tuberculosis, and therefore, a possible source of disease, not only to the farm home, but to every town home which the farmer may supply with milk, butter, meat or poultry products."

Experts have found that perfectly healthy appearing animals, under the tuberculosis test, or on a post-mortem examination may be found to be tubercular to a large degree. The disease then is communicable easily to milk consumers before the cow shows any symptoms. It is pointed out.

In Putnam-co last year, the records show, 2,847 cows were tested and 259 reactors found. This, according to farm bureau officials, covers a comparatively small per cent of the cattle in the county and can, in a small measure, serve as a check on the disease.

Poultry flocks are being disposed of where they are found to be infected, and now flocks are brought in. Reactors are found here and there and shipped immediately, but these measures being taken only in spots cannot noticeably lower the menace to the public health, Henceroth reasons.

"It is time for organized effort. Every public fight requires much preliminary work, reorganization and education, and above all the long task of educating the people out of indifference. While all this is being done, let thinking people look into the matter, and come together in an organized effort that must win a fight to make Putnam-co safe for Putnam-co children," Henceroth declared.

INSTITUTE ON AT VAUGHNSVILLE

Farm Improvements, Grains Discussed First Day

VAUGHNSVILLE — The annual institute of farmers of southwestern Putnam-co opened here Monday, with E. F. Johnson and Mrs. Geneva Steuber as instructors.

Farmers were unable to do little on the farm and attended the institute in large numbers, despite the cold day.

Johnson's subjects mainly were devoted to improvements on the farm, especially of labor saving machinery and the most profitable grains and crops to plant.

All sessions are held in the school gymnasium. Dinner was served Monday at the domestic science class of the high school.

The program Monday night was devoted to lighter subjects and to musical and literary numbers.

Chief among the speakers Tuesday was A. M. Fowler, of Ellettsville, owner of a flock of 1,000 hens on his farm and who is a poultry specialist. Breeders of high-class chickens especially were interested in his talks.

which, however, appealed to every farmer.

J. W. Henceroth, Putnam-co agent, delivered an address, telling of the trip of Putnam-co farmers recently thru the Cleveland stock yards.

Mrs. Davis Conn, wife of the Putnam-co farm bureau president, spoke at the afternoon session on "Home and Community." State Speaker E. F. Johnson continued his talks. A three-act play, "The Farmette," will be given at the high school gymnasium, Tuesday night, by pupils of the Vaughnsville schools.

Taking part will be Mae Anderson, Madeline George, Edith Heidebaugh, Margaret Riner, Mrs. Switz and Audrey Auchmuty.

A feature of the Vaughnsville institute was a big show of corn, wheat, oats, soy beans, apples, potatoes and poultry. There were judging contests and educational displays in charge of Prof. Mantz, teacher of agriculture.

Ottawa Postmaster Shows Big Increase Over 1922

OTTAWA — Increase of 27 per cent in 1923 over 1922 in the sale of stamps and supplies at the Ottawa postoffice was announced Tuesday by Postmaster S. O. Kerr.

The figures are based on stamps, postcards and stamped envelopes sold. The Ottawa postoffice is a second class office and no increase is figured on the sale of money orders.

The increase exceeded the expectations of Postmaster Kerr, and indicates that Ottawa tourists, farmers and professional men did a large volume of business in the past year by means of the Ottawa postoffice.

RISE IN STOCKS IS HALTED

Large Gains in Prices Followed by Setback

RESULT OF PROFIT-TAKING

Oils Hit by Operations of Mexican Rebels

NEW YORK (Associated Press)—Stock prices displayed a sharp decline at the opening of today's stock market. Major and low priced shares were again in demand at the early gains were halted and prices were under pressure. The first 15 minutes of trading showed a general advance, one point to 32 1/4, the highest in more than a year.

Strength of Erie, Southern Railway and Pere Marquette issues featured the early dealings. Gains of 2 points or more were registered by American Smelting, Phillips Morris, American Sugar, American Tobacco, American Ship and Commerce, Loose Wire, Goodyear Tire and Rubber, American Can, and Allied Chemicals. American Can advanced 1 1/4 points to 109 1/4, the highest ever recorded. For Body and Tobacco products were heavy. Foreign exchanges opened on lower French francs establishing another new low at 24 1/2 cents.

Short selling and profit-taking checked the course of prices downward after the first hour early gains which ran as high as 4 1/2 points being materially reduced or nullified. In forenoon, Pan-American was selected on the announcement that the company's Mexican properties were in possession of the United States. Market Street Railway was preferred slumped 3 1/4 points and Producers and Refiners, Schlitz, Stroh, and Steel Car, and States and Shoss Sheffield, and Famous Players, General Asphalt, Mack Truck and Air Reduction all sold one to two points below yesterday's final quotations. Goodrich Tire preferred advanced 4 1/2 points and Goodrich Rubber preferred three in the initial burst of buying. Call money opened at 4 3/4 per cent.

ADVANCE SCORED IN WHEAT

Rise at Liverpool is Chief Factor in Boost

WEATHER REPORTS BULLISH

Gains in Corn and Oats Are Also Registered

CHICAGO—Associated Press)—Fresh upturn here in the value of wheat reacted today on a further advance in Liverpool quotations despite prospects of liberal shipments from the southern hemisphere. Bullish sentiment was further stimulated by reports that snow covering for winter wheat east of the Mississippi was scant or absent in some sections during recent cold weather. Buying, however, was light. The opening which varied from unchanged figures to 5-8c higher, May 1.38 3/4 to 1.09 1-8 and July 1.07 1-4, was followed by a slight setback from the initial top level.

Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. Receipts of corn remained small, the estimate of arrivals in Chicago today being only 124 cars. After opening unchanged to 3-8c higher, May 75 3/4 to 76, corn continued to point upward.

Oats started unchanged to 1-8c higher, May 45 3/4 to 45 7/8 and later showed no tendency to sag. Provisions were steady, notwithstanding lower quotations on hogs.

FIRST "BOB" PARTY HITS SNOWDRIFT AND UPSETS

GLANDORF — A jolly party of young people enjoyed the first bob side of the season Monday night going to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Leopold, four miles north of Glandorf.

Supper was served and the evening was most delightfully spent. Enroute home the party encountered snowdrifts and the sled upset, delaying them several hours.

In the party were Felix Gulker, Joseph T. Deten, J. W. Meckman, Olin Gulker, Henry Peters, Gilbert Gulker, Joseph Kolkmeier, Elmer Stochschulte, Edwin Maag, Anthony Sommer, Elburn Fry, Ray Fry, Victor Unterbrink, Charles Macdon, and Alphonse Dyerup, and the Misses Genevieve Nordhaus, Florence Fanbert, Mavne Narkter, Theresia Horstman, Edna Gulker, Frances Stochschulte, Louise Unterbrink and Eleanor Gulker.
